

About the Authors

Dr. Mohammad Tarikul Islam is an Associate Professor of Government and Politics at the Jahangirnagar University in Bangladesh. Meanwhile Dr. Islam has been associated with the University of Oxford, the University of Cambridge and School of Oriental and African Studies (SOAS), University of London in different prestigious capacities.

Abhishek Chowdhury is Assistant Professor at Department of English, Chakdaha College. His areas of interest are: Shakespeare in Bengal, Film and Literature, Feminism, Gender Studies, Myth Criticism, American Literature, Latin American Literature, Indian Literature in English, etc.

Dr. Biswanath Pramanik is presently serving as an Assistant Professor of Philosophy in Pritilata Waddedar Mahavidyalaya, Panikhali, Daluabari, Nadia, W. B., India, since 2016. He obtained M. Phil. Degree in 2012 and Ph. D. in 2021 from Jadavpur University, Kolkata, India. His area of research is “Nyaya Darshan a Jati”.

Nabanita Paul presently serves as a State Aided College Teacher - Grade I in the department of English, Chakdaha College, Chakdaha, Nadia. She is pursuing Ph.D in Centre for Studies in Social Sciences, Kolkata (affiliated to Jadavpur University). Her interests broadly include Partition Studies, Posthumanism, Urban Studies, Northeast Indian Literature in English and Postcolonialism. She is also an avid reader of Bengali literature and culture.

Dr. Shilpi Basak is an Assistant Professor of English at Sudhiranjan Lahiri Mahavidyalaya, West Bengal, India. She has to her credit several research articles and book chapters in different reputed journals and books. She has completed her Ph. D. in 2020. Her doctoral thesis deals with the poetry of Kashmiri-American poet Agha Shahid Ali. Dr. Basak’s areas of research interests include Diaspora Studies, Postcolonial Studies and Gender Studies among others.

Soma Bangal presently serves as a State Aided College Teacher - Grade I in the department of Sanskrit, Chakdaha College, Chakdaha, Nadia. She has completed NET, SET. She obtained Post Graduate degree in Sanskrit with 1st class 1st from Rabindra Bharati University in 2014 and M. Phil. degree in Sanskrit from Rabindra Bharati University in 2018. Her field of interest are Veda.